Lydia Alina (Koski) Herrala

Born on December 20, 1886, in Atlantic Mine, Michigan

Died on May 13, 1936, and is buried in the Finnish Apostolic Cemetery near Perth, ND.

She married Otto Herrala on December 26, 1901, in Michigan. Lydia had just turned 15 years old, six days prior getting married to Otto. To this union were born 11 living and two stillborn children.

Lydia and Otto moved to Perth, North Dakota in 1908. First they lived on a farm north and east of Perth called the “Adams place”, and later referred to as “Bengston farm.” Then they moved to a farm six miles north and one mile west of Perth called the “Taylor place”, then to the “Wilson place”, which was one-half mile north of the Finnish Apostolic Cemetery. The next move was to a farm one mile east of the Taylor farm which was Matt Koski’s farm. Eventually Otto was able to buy the Taylor place. There they spent the remainder of their farming years. The Taylor place was eventually bought by Bill and Edna Hoyhtya and is now known as the Hoyhtya farm.

Lydia (Koski) had a stroke August 3, 1935, and this left her paralyzed on her right side. She passed away May 13, 1936, and is buried in the Finnish Apostolic Cemetery near Perth.
